Terms of Use

Version 1.0 · 1 January 2025

Agreeing to these terms

These terms govern your use of this app. By using it you agree to them. If you do not agree, please stop using the app.

No liability

The app is provided as it is. To the fullest extent the law allows, we accept no liability for any loss arising from your use of it, including loss of data, loss of profit, or interruption of business.

Nothing in these terms limits liability that cannot lawfully be limited, including liability for death or personal injury caused by negligence, or for fraud.

Your responsibilities

You are responsible for what you enter and for keeping your device and your sign-in details secure. Do not use the app to store or send material you have no right to, or to break any law.

Payments

Some features may in future require payment. We reserve the right to charge for services when we deem appropriate. A charge is always shown to you before you agree to it.

Any payment is handled by the app store you installed the app from, under that store's terms. We never ask for card details inside the app, and we never send you out of the app to pay.

If a feature becomes paid, anything you have already bought stays yours. We will not charge you again for content you have already purchased, and we will not withdraw access you have already paid for.

Changes to these terms

We may update these terms. When we do, we show you the new version, tell you when it takes effect, and ask you to accept it before you carry on.

Stopping

You may stop using the app at any time. Removing your data does not cancel a subscription bought through a store; manage that in the store.
